The Problem

Due to an increase in staff, 37 South required somewhere for their employees to work, undistracted from other operations occurring in the warehouse.

The Solution

To adequately house their employees, 37 South opted to install an office under raised storage area. The solution consisted of a modular wall system, which gave extra 40 square metres of space.

The Outcome

37 South now had a structural mezzanine with an enclosed office for staff. This allowed their employees to confidently and efficiently undertake their responsibilities.
